Dear Ms. Alaverdashvili,

In January 2013 we had a number of urgent requirements at the Richard G. Lugar Center for Public Health Research (CPHR) in order to ensure certification of the facility. Given our previous successes with Global Services, we turned to you to assist in these necessary and vital repairs.

The work included a variety of repairs and upgrades including reconfiguration of access doors, the provision of emergency lighting throughout the facility, improved security controls, modifications to personnel change out areas, and epoxy floor repairs. Once this work was outlined and contracted, we met with you in February to map out a sequence whereby we would achieve success within the tight timeframes. You replied with a very aggressive plan that would exceed our time requirements. Needless to say, we were quite pleased with potential completion ahead of an already tight schedule.

Over the coming weeks, your personnel worked through every obstacle. You worked nights and off-shift hours, on weekends, and tirelessly to complete each task. Indeed, you met or exceeded every expectation. It is not often that we see such diligence in a firm and CH2M HILL applauds your dedication and drive in meeting and exceeding our requirements. The dedicated professionals you had working here should be congratulated for a JOB WELL DONE!

Sincerely,
